

Hi William,

I wanted to notify you that government legislation has made available funds for a range of corporate training initiatives. Typically, you should be able to receive $50,000-$200,000 (or more) easier than you would imagine.

Just now available, Cox eLearning Consultants has published a 60 page report that gives you:

- Where to find the money
- What are the processes
- Who can help and who to avoid

If you are interested in obtaining funds for your corporate training needs, go to our website to learn more and purchase our research report.
