

Hi Joseph,

I wanted to notify you about innovative methods to deal with budget issues for corporate training programs. We hear about a plethora of government stimulus money, but most of us don't know where to start or what is best.

I thought you'd appreciate answers and resources to guide you through the complexity of government funding. Here's where you can find answers:

Webinar: March 18 3:00 PM Eastern [12 Noon Pacific]

A 45-minute webinar that identifies which government funding sources to consider and those to avoid.

Link for more info

Workshop: April 14 1:00 PM Eastern [10:00 AM Pacific]

A 2-hour virtual workshop to

- Educate you on specific government funding sources to seek
- Case studies
- Webinar participant advisory for your funding chances

Link for more info

68-Page Industry Report

A detailed report provides descriptions and ratings for various government funding sources.

Real-life examples of how federal and state funding has helped real-world companies.

Further resources and organizations who can guarantee success.

Link for more info

Consulting & Advisory

Cox eLearning Consultants can provide you with individualized analysis and advisory of government funding for corporate training, as well as a breadth of elearning, HRMS, talent management and other training and HR technology solutions. www.coxec.com/govfund

Survey

We're gathering further data for our industry research. Please complete the following survey. As a thank you, you'll be eligible for an iPod. Survey

I hope this information proves helpful to you.

Sincerely,

Dan Cox

Industry Analyst & CEO

Cox eLearning Consultants

3848 MacGregor Common

Livermore, CA 94551