

Hello Joanne,

Have you ever wanted to have access to the best minds in business – people like Dr. Marshall Goldsmith, Dr. Russell Ackoff and Dr. Beverly Kaye – just to pick their brains for a few minutes? What if they were available whenever you needed them, fitting into your busy schedule? Wouldn't that would be great?

I developed a company to do just that – to give people immediate access to leaders of business for a few minutes at their convenience. AthenaOnline (www.AthenaOnline.com) has taken prominent business leaders' presentations and broken them down into small video snippets of step-by-step information you can use to advance your organization's performance.

Thousands of people are already using the MyQuickCoach system, and I am extending an invitation for you to try two of our over 1,200 business lessons. To view the videos, just click on the links below.
